Riches, graves, treasures

Over 1,000 exhibits from Baden-Württemberg's rich archaeological heritage

Be it Ländle or THE LÄND: Baden-Württemberg enjoys a high quality of life and is home to more than 11 million people. But how did people fare here 2000 years ago? How much do we still have in common with them today?

Discover „THE hidden LÄND“!

Rome falls, her gods fall with her. Warriors found new empires. The cross promises salvation. The land we now call Baden-Württemberg has been shaped throughout history by the Romans, Suebi, Alemanni, Franks and Swabians. Divided into episodes of 200 years each, the exhibition highlights five important areas of life from the Roman era to the Migration Period and the Early Middle Ages.

Come with us to a time of great upheaval, experience individual testimonies, immerse yourself in past lives and discover parallels to your own life.

Spectacular finds, precious loans

The exhibition, sponsored by the state of Baden-Württemberg, offers an exciting tour covering 850 square metres. In addition to new excavation finds and valuable objects from the collections of our partners, visitors will also find a series of outstanding national and international objects on loan focusing on the key aspects of integration, migration, communication, faith and power.

For the first time in Germany: Germanic burial artefacts from Ukraine

A particular highlight are the artefacts from the princely tombs of Kariv (Ukraine), which have been made available by the Museum of History and Culture. The artefacts were found in Germanic graves from the first and second centuries AD. As prestige objects displaying status and an elevated lifestyle, they were used by a supra-regionally active elite with a Europe-wide network.

Accompanying programme

Hands-on archaeology – medieval life up close

Together with our partner Campus Galli, we offer you an experience-oriented accompanying programme that allows you to get hands-on and experience medieval life up close. Dates at www.thehiddenlaend.de

Children's treasure hunt

A treasure hunt for children leads through all areas of the exhibition. Tricky tasks and puzzles have to be solved to uncover the „hidden LÄND“.

Audio guide

You can download the free audio guide app to your mobile device at www.thehiddenlaend.de. A limited number of rental devices are also available on site for a deposit. Reservations are not possible.
